Invitation to Sponsor the 2023 America's Grasslands Conference

Dear Grassland Partner,

The National Wildlife Federation and University of Wyoming College of Agriculture, Life Sciences and Natural Resources are pleased to announce our upcoming America's Grasslands Conference, to be held in Cheyenne, Wyoming, August 8th-10th, 2023. This sixth biennial conference is preceded by five highly successful conferences held in Bismarck, ND (2019), Sioux Falls, SD (2011), Manhattan, KS (2013), Fort Collins, CO (2015), and Fort Worth, Texas (2017), which were attended by 225-300 participants.

The America's Grasslands Conference continues to serve as the premier meeting for stakeholders who care about the conservation of grasslands—bringing together researchers, producers, conservationists, policy professionals, and others over a three day period.

This year's conference theme, Reconnecting America's Grasslands, will have a particular focus reconnecting grasslands across North America and reconnecting across our areas of expertise and as partners after being apart these last few years.

Additionally, we will be including talks and breakout sessions on a diverse array of topics, including: partnership success stories and case studies, Indigenous or community based stewardship of grasslands, grazing management, climate change and energy development, ecosystem services, education strategies, corporate sustainable sourcing commitments, grassland connectivity, and wildlife movements on grasslands.

The event will also include a day of optional field trips to local grasslands, where participants will get to see firsthand exciting and successful grassland management, research, and conservation projects.

As we continue to plan the 2023 conference and put together the program, we look forward to receiving input from our sponsors and encourage you to share any ideas that you have.

We hope that you will consider becoming a sponsor of this exciting event. We depend on sponsorships to support the conference in many ways including through subsidizing registration costs and providing travel assistance for ranchers, producers, and students who would otherwise not be able to attend the conference. We appreciate your consideration of this request for support, and look forward to seeing you in August.

Sincerely,
Lekha Knuffman
